ANACAM represents and defends the interests of its member companies vis-à-vis regional and national government departments and agencies.

It maintains close contact and cooperation with:

- other trade associations
- associations representing building owners and building managers, consumers, tenants, certification and inspection bodies
- and other stakeholders.

ANACAM offers advisory services on codes and standards, legal and fiscal matters, technical and safety questions to its members; it promotes education and training and issues publications that allow member companies to stay in touch with the latest technical and legal advances.

ANACAM member companies serve a large stake of the

million lifts

in service in Italy and employ approximately 10,000

qualified workers

(including suppliers' work force).

ANACAM's experts participate in the elaboration of lift standards in the Italian Standardisation body

UNI

and, through the European Federation

EFESME

in the elaboration of European

CEN

and international

ISO and ETSI standards.

ANACAM IN EUROPE

ANACAM is a founding member of EFESME, the European Federation for elevator small and medium-sized enterprises, based in Brussels.

EFESME is the European SMEs voice in the lift industry, representing and defending at EU level the interests of SMEs operating in the lifts business. EFESME is a non-profit-making international association under Belgian law, created in 2005. Today, it counts 15 national associations representing 14 EU Member States.

EFESME experts directly contribute to the work of the Technical Committee and its Working Groups within the CEN TC 10 (European Committee for Standardization) and the ISO TC178 (International Organization for Standardization) dealing with lifts, escalators and moving walks.
